1 DEAD, 3 INJURED IN MORRISDALE ACCIDENTS

WAR TIME CONTROL OF RAILROADS AND MINES MAY COME OUT OF FAILURE TO ADJUST WAGE SCALE DISPUTES

Government Believed Prepared To Invoke All The Powers Of Section 402 Of Transportation Act To Keep Fuel And Transportation Going

NO IMPROVEMENT IN CONDITIONS YET

Washington, D. C., July 24.—Powers almost as drastic as those used by the Government during war time will be brought into play in dealing with the rail and mine strikes, it was believed here today.

It was expected that the Interstate Commerce Commission would issue an order declaring that the dual mine and rail strikes constituted a national emergency within the scope of Section 402 of the Transportation Act. Issuance of this decree would result in strong action being taken by the Government to protect the public interests. The Administration in the contemplated step is expected to treat the two emergencies as one.

The plan contemplated by the Government includes the two following steps:

First.—Governmental direction of the railroads and control of the distribution and price of coal.

Second.—Seizure and operation of the mines.

The patience of the President in his effort to bring the warring factions together has been about exhausted and he believes it is his duty to take action, according to Administration Senators, who are in close touch with the President.

The Government's new and sweeping move will be made within two days if the strikers and employers do not manifest a willingness to settle their dispute, one leading Republican Senator said.

WATKINS FLAYS THE UNION OFFICIALS IN STATEMENT

"Rejection" Is A Fixed Habit, "Refusal to Confer" Is Second Nature, Says P. C. & C. Pres.

RENEWING HIS OFFER

Renewing his offer of a sliding scale to the former employees of the Pennsylvania Coal & Coke Corporation, operating in Clearfield, Indiana and Cambria County, Thos. H. Watkins, President, strongly flays the officials of the United States Mine Workers for their refusal to confer on any compromise basis thus far offered and sets forth a list of the occasions on which the leaders have taken a position which prevents an early resumption of mining in this region. In this circular, which we are advised is being sent to all former employees today, Mr. Watkins offers a minimum wage of $1.01 for mining and $5.00 a day for day labor with substantial increases of wages as the price of coal fluctuates.

The Offer

To the Employees of the Pennsylvania Coal & Coke Corporation.

We understand from the newspapers that President Brophy of District No. 2 has rejected our proposed Sliding Scale because "it was too indefinite."

"There will be no response to the Company's invitation for a Conference," Mr. Brophy is quoted as saying.

"Rejection" seems to be a fixed habit of union leaders in this district. "Refusal to Confer," has become second nature.

They have rejected a District Conference.

They have rejected all proposals made at the President's National Conference.

They have rejected Arbitration.

They have rejected their own demands as a basis for a provisional resumption of work.

DUBOIS HOME BREW ARTISTS VISITED BY "DRY" AGENTS

1500 Gallons of "Dew," Five Stills and Seven Brewers and Distillers Are Taken In Raid.

RAID SAT. MORNING

DuBois, Pa., July 24.—Although there was a number of drunks seen reeling around the streets on Saturday night, the number was somewhat diminished owing to the activities of a set of Federal Officers who quietly entered the city on Saturday morning and proceeded to make a clean sweep of a number of places that were suspected of dispensing "moonshine." So far as known all the places raided are of the "home brew" variety, it not being apparent that any of the bootleggers were disturbed, at least not any of the "big fellows" that are credited with being in the business.

In all seven places were raided, about 1500 gallons of "moonshine" taken, five stills discovered and a large quantity of mash unearthed. Some of the "moonshine" was kept for evidence, but most of it was destroyed.

The raids were in charge of District Agent W. J. Martzoff, who was assisted by William A. Kelton, F. M. Watt, A. R. Foster, W. A. Kunkle, A. K. Smith, all of the Punxsutawney district office.

The raiders made visits to the following places:

M. Maglinski, who lives near the old Wilson school house.

Jos. Korpel, near the old Wilson school house.

PENFIELD ROAD, MOST BEAUTIFUL DRIVE IN VICINITY, IS NEGLECTED

Movement Now On Foot To Improve The Pike To State House, From Where It Is Always In Fine Shape.

LET EVERYBODY HELP OUT

An effort will be made by local business men and the people of the town to get underway as soon as possible Penfield Road looking to the rear. The Penfield road has been very neglected thus far this year, recent meeting of the Clearfield this whole region and if the road is not improved it will be a disgrace. President Peter Gearhart was authorized by unanimous action to appoint a committee for the soliciting of funds for a short route to Penfield, Rd to make the necessary repairs and way, St. Mary's and other points in improvements on this road.

KNOX RUN MINER KILLED WHEN CAR IN WHICH HE WAS RIDING HITS ANOTHER; TROLLEY TRACK SLEEPER LOSES LEG

Driver Of Ford Did Not See Car Alongside Of State Highway, As It Was Left Standing There Without Any Lights Burning—Pedestrian Is Hit Near The Water Dam.

DAVID FISH IS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

One man dead, on man cut off and otherwise injured, one with head lacerations and still another with painful bruises, is the toll of a series of three accidents along the state road from the Lakeside Park Dam to the Allport trolley station happening on Saturday night within a period of three hours.

In sequence it all happened as follows: Jack Balbos of Morrisdale was walking along the state highway below Morrisdale about 11:30 Saturday evening when he was run down by a Buick roadster which knocked him down inflicting painful bruises but although the Buick was running at a high rate of speed he escaped with only minor injuries. The injured man was hurried to the doctor where his injuries were promptly attended.

Coward Ran Away

Morrisdale people are incensed at the unwarranted and cowardly action of the driver of the Buick which hit Balbos. Not only was it running at a high rate of speed but upon hitting Balbos the driver stepped on the gas and made his getaway without making any effort to determine the extent of his victims' injuries. Witnesses declare that the first three numbers on the license were "266."

While the doctor was attending to Balbos another accident took place directly in front of the White residence in Morrisdale in which John Kovelesky, a Knox Run miner, aged about 45 years, was killed and the driver of the Ford and another man sitting on the front seat were cut and bruised. The car in which Kovelesky was a passenger was leaving the town enroute to Knox Run which is in Cooper township. Shortly after passing the trolley tracks before reaching the White residence a Studebaker approached them coming from the direction of Allport. In turning out to pass the approaching car the Kovelesky car crashed into a Ford car, owned by a resident of the Sington community by the name of Beveridge which was parked along side of the road with the two side wheels on the ground and the other two on the cement. There was no lights on the parked car and this is thought to be the reason for the side collision. Kovelesky, who is a widower with three children, sustained a broken neck. The car in which he was riding was badly damaged but the parked car suffered little injury.

Accident Number Three

About 1:30 on Sunday morning, the last car leaving Winburne on the road was a Ford car.

Why Do They Do It?

What makes people fill one theatre night after night for 443 nights for one play and stay away from another theatre with another play, as though it were a plague spot?

One play is doubtless as widely advertised as the other and the casts of both are probably equal in ability. And yet the crowd goes to one and stays away from the other.

Of course the answer is plain. One has merit; the other has not. The play which is to be given on the Chautauqua program is one of the few good ones, the few which have had exceptionally long runs in New York and Chicago, this proving without a doubt that "they have the goods."

"Turn to the Right" ran 443 nights in New York and 219 nights in Chicago. It is called "The comedy that will live forever." It has the heart interest of the ever-compelling story of mother-love. It is clean. People who are familiar with the Chautauqua type of play agree that this is a fine example of the type.

A special single admission price of $1.00 is announced for the attraction, but season ticket holders will escape this extra tax. This looks like an opportunity for lovers of drama, especially comedy-drama.

WHOLE WEEK OF FUN AND ENTERTAINMENT WILL SOON BE HERE

A glance at the full page advertisement in this issue on the Chautauqua offerings for this season should convince anybody that this organization offers more for the money in wholesome fun, amusement and entertainment than can be gotten in any other way. To those who love the theatre, the play "Turn to the Right" is to be given by full company. Ralph Bingham, the humorist, is another headliner on the bill. But look at the page to see the rest of the offerings. To attend all of the attractions offered, were they given by separate booking houses, would cost in the neighborhood of twenty dollars yet the whole week's entertainment can be had for three dollars.

Ticket sellers will be on the wing tomorrow morning and the solicitation will be continued until the quota is sold. Everybody should buy early and thus save the solicitors a lot of valuable time.

POLLACK STORE TO BE REBUILT AT ONCE SAYS OWNER

Merchant L. W. Pollack informs the Progress that he will begin the repairing and remodeling of his Market Street store and flat building just as soon as the insurance adjusters get through with their examination and report on the amount of damage caused by the recent fire.

Mr. Pollack desires us to say that he is very grateful to all who so generously assisted him during the fire which so unfortunately visited his premises, he being especially grateful to the firemen for their prompt action and valuable work.

Investigation of the fire appears to establish the fact that it was caused by the electric wiring.

PHILIPSBURG MAN WOULD WED SWAMP BABY'S MOTHER

New York, July 23.—In his mail yesterday, Magistrate O'Neill, in the Fifth Avenue Court, Brooklyn, received a letter from a man in Philipsburg, Pa., who wants to marry Leah Silver, mother of the baby found in the marsh lands bordering Coney Island creek.

The writer says he sympathizes with the young woman, and if she does not care to marry him he is willing to care for her children, the one found in the marsh and the one about to be born.

The man says he is a college graduate and about 30 years older than Miss Silver. He says he has a substantial income and owns $15,000 worth of property besides 14 acres of coal land. He signed the letter "W. B. Box 252, Philipsburg, Centre County, Pa." Magistrate O'Neill forwarded the letter to Miss Silver, who is in the Bay Ridge Sanitarium.

SPENT FIVE YEARS IN AFRICA

Miss Laura Gilliland, a Lutheran Deaconess who spent the past five years in Monrovia, on the west coast of Africa, is visiting her brothers W. E. and Frank S. She will remain in this country on a vacation that will last several months.

Harding Gets Reports

Washington, July 24.—Reports of the situation in Western Pennsylvania where attempts are being made to operate union mines with troop protection are understood to have been given to President Harding today by A. P. Moore, Pittsburgh publisher, and former State Senator Flynn, who spent nearly an hour at the White House this morning. Moore and Flynn declined to comment directly on their conference with Harding except to state the coal situation was discussed in a general way. Secretary Mellen joined the conference before it was terminated.

Exceptional Musical Program Coming

There is no class of music more beautiful, more helpful, more inspiring, more uplifting, and contributed to more bountifully by the world's greatest music masters, than that which is composed to be sung during services of divine worship.

Considering that the opportunity to hear these wonderful compositions rendered by a body of trained singers is far too rare in most communities, the Dunbar Philharmonic Choir is presented at the Chautauqua, not only as a company of artists to entertain, but as a suggestion of a choir ideal; such an organization as might appropriately adorn any sacred portal. In presenting these artists it is hoped that wherever they appear, they may inspire a desire for more beautiful music in the worship of God.

The repertoire of the Philharmonic Choir includes a number of short, modern oratorios by such composers as Buck, Stafler and Schneider, one of which is rendered at each performance, this being the first company in the history of the Chautauqua to offer such works in their entirety. The programs also include a number of old hymns, the interpretation of which is a special feature. As a fitting contrast to the sacred music, and by way of furnishing a striking climax and finish, the company is heard in a number of secular songs, duets, quartets and choruses of a very high order, finally closing with a grand finale, "Cavalleria Rusticana."

AUDITORS ANNOUNCE MORE JUGGLING OF TREASURY FUNDS

Harrisburg, Pa., July 24.—Allegheny County treasurer's checks amounting to $20,277.87, dated December 30th, 1919, received in exchange for several blank checks were deposited to the credit of the account of John A. Bell, declared the certified public accountants auditing the State Treasurer's books in a supplemental report in the hands of the Auditor General.

The $20,277.87 was deposited to the credit of the Commonwealth nearly a year later by deposit of one of the blank checks filled out for that amount. This report, supplemental to Section 4 of the Main report, was announced only a few hours before Bell was to become a witness at the hearing. This check was meanwhile charged to the accounts subject to check in the Carnegie Trust Company of which Bell is President.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 24.—Summarizing their investigation of the transactions between former State Treasurer Harmon M. Kephart and Bell the auditors reported the following:

Certain checks received from the County Treasurer of Armstrong County were entered on the records of the State Treasury as if after receipt at Harrisburg the same were held and not deposited. As a matter of fact these checks had been endorsed, and exchanged for undated blank checks signed Carnegie Trust Company, John A. Bell, President.

The blank checks above referred to were presumably not used until some time after their receipt.

Had the original County Treasurer's checks been deposited in due course, or the checks acquired in exchange deposited immediately, interest would (Continued on Page 7)

standing near the road and a few minutes later, Stine and Alton, the oldest girl, who is just 6 years of age, lying in the woods some distance from the road. The little girl was unharmed but her story caused the men in the crowd to roughly handle Stine for a few minutes. He was taken to the jail today and angry threats of lynching, but wiser counsel prevailed and he was released to Sheriff Lott at the jail. Deputy Sheriff Lott, who had jumped in a car and drove to the scene and brought the prisoner to jail.

This morning, Mrs. Ruth Butler, the mother of the child came to town and made information before (Judge) Chorprenning in which Stine is charged with attempted rape.

Stine appeared to be very much under the influence of liquor when found and claims to know nothing of his alleged attack upon the child.

Centre-Clearfield Street Railway and once the front end of a man lying on the track near the Allport station. Bringing the car to a quick stop the carmen found that the victim was David Fish, who lived only a few hundred yards away along the state road. Fish had been to Phillipsburg earlier in the evening and was seen in Morrisdale business places about midnight at which time he appeared to have been drinking. His injuries, a leg cut off and other serious injuries internally, are very serious and he may not recover. He is being treated at the Phillipsburg hospital. It is believed that Fish sank in a stupor and knew nothing of the approach of the trolley car and it is said that he did not regain consciousness for several hours after the accident.

GEARHART'S WIN FROM NEW MILLPORT

Last Saturday afternoon Gearhart's Yarn Busters, looking for new worlds to conquer, journeyed up to the little village of New Millport and took their crack team into camp in a long distance marathon by a score of 21 to 17.

Everybody hit in spite of, or due to the fact that it was a good day to try out pitchers. The Busters used a new one every third inning, while New Millport went them one better, having four men on the mound in the nine sessions.

TELEPHONE GIRLS PICNIC

A bevy of girls employed in the local H. & C. Telephone exchange dropped "number please" and "line's busy" long enough Saturday afternoon to tie themselves out to View Point Camp, where they rusticated, picniced and enjoyed themselves to the limit over Sunday.

The party was in charge of Miss Mary Shaffer and she proved to be a highly capable "captain." The picnicers are all on the job this morning very much refreshed from their outing and pausing along the benefits of the recreation in extra promptness and cheerful service.

As To The Sliding Scale
What is there indefinite about a wage scale in effect when the Armistice was signed in 1918? If anyone doesn't remember it send him a copy of the scale agreement in effect at that time, which wage scale we offer as a minimum base.

What is there indefinite about an agreement to increase these rates one per cent. for each 1 per cent increase in the price of coal obtained by us in excess of the 1918 fair price fixed by the Government and in effect at the time of the Armistice—$2.95 a net ton.

What is there indefinite about an offer that invites you to appoint a committee to audit monthly the prices received by us for coal?
If some details need clearing up or are not satisfactory, why not come and talk it over with us man to man and tell us how you think it should be changed?

To give an idea of how this scale would work out from month to month at different prices we cite the following examples:

a. If the prices we receive average $2.95, or less, the miners would still receive the base rate of $1.0115 per gross ton for pick coal and a base rate of $5.00 for inside labor.
b. If the price received for any month averages $3.245, which is 10 per cent. above $2.95, then wage rates would be increased 20 per cent.
c. If the price received averages $3.45 at the mines, or 20 per cent. above $2.95, then wage rates would be increased 20 per cent.
d. At $4.13 for coal, wage rates would be increased 40 per cent. making the pick rate $1.4161 a gross ton. The rate of a $5 a day man would be $7.00.
e. At $4.425 for coal, wage rates would be increased 50 per cent. and the miners' pick rate would be $1.5173.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR BABY WELL

A Weekly Talk To Mothers Issued Through The Babies' Prophylactic Clinic, Henry Phipps Institution, 7th and Lombard Streets, Philadelphia.

Care of the Older Child in the Summer

While it is true that during the summer time, babies need exceptional care and attention, it must not be forgotten that the older children need it too.

Older children are more frequently subject to intestinal diseases in the summer time than at any other time of the year. Because they are not under the continued observation of their parents and teachers, as they are during the school months, they have more opportunity to eat various indigestible foods. Parents themselves may unconsciously aid their children in obtaining faulty foods by giving them pennies to spend at the corner candy or grocery stores.

It is very necessary for mothers to supervise their children's activities as much as possible. First of all, they must be given food regularly. Eating between meals must be discouraged. A child grows much much better and is more able to digest its food properly if that food is given at regular, stated intervals.

The food in itself must be, first of all, nourishing and secondly, easy to digest. Growing and active children require those foods which make for their proper development. Briefly, these consist of milk, bread, cereals, eggs, a small amount of fresh meat or vegetables. Candy and ice cream will do no harm, provided they are given after meals. If given between meals, they interfere with the digestion of the regular food and spoil the appetite for the next meal. It would be much better for mothers to it to their children regularly after meals, than to allow them to buy cheap candy for themselves.

Besides proper food, children must have enough rest. They should be put to bed at an early hour and not kept up just because it is hot. Very young children should have a rest period in the middle of the day, even if they do not sleep. They should be put in a darkened room and made to keep as quiet as possible. The importance of this mid-day rest period cannot be over emphasized. It prevents the over-tiredness, nervousness and irritability which are so commonly seen in children.

HAPPY SURPRISE

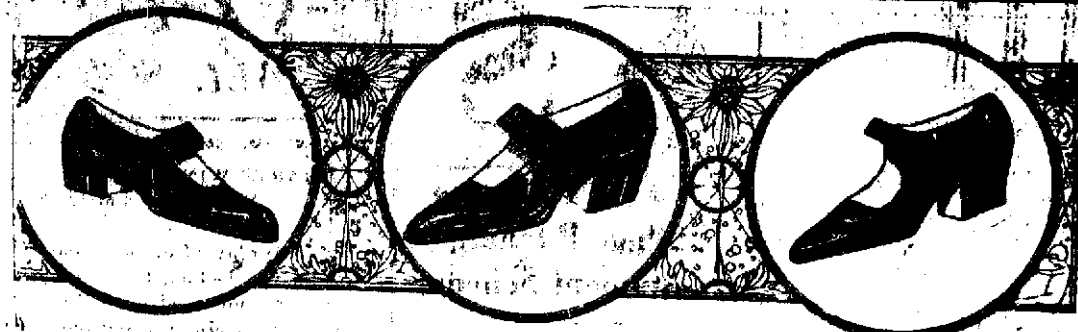

FOR AGED LADY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Welch at Mt. Zion was the scene of a happy family gathering Saturday evening when about ninety guests and relatives gathered to honor Mrs. Sara A. Nelson who that day passed the eightieth milestone of life's journey. A great feast in honor of Mrs. Nelson had been prepared and the table groaned with the goodies of the season. Happy as were the guests, Mrs. Nelson seemed to enjoy the surprise more than her guests and joined in the jollification both before and after the repast. Mrs. Nelson is in excellent health after all life work which knew no hours too long or sacrifice too great and the children, of whom there are seven living, thirty nine grand children and fifteen great grand children, will all testify to this statement. At present she lives with her daughter Mrs. Guy Livergood, of Clearfield, occupying her own side of the house Mrs. Welch is also a daughter. Most of her life has been spent in the vicinity of Shawville with the exception of the nine years she has been living here. In addition to the immediate relatives and local friends those present were Mr. and Mrs. Christ Falk, of Houtzdale; Mr. and Mrs. Claire McCoy of Ginter; H. A. Kyler and wife Wm. F. Rich and wife of Shawville and Mrs. Wallace, wife of the Shawville pastor; E. A. Nelson of North Bend, Pa.; S. K. Williams and wife of Clearfield; George Nelson and wife Guy Livergood and wife, Dr. J. M. Onigley and wife and Genevieve Williams of Akron.

A Guide to What's Good to Get

Some one has said that if bread and butter were new inventions they would have to be advertised before people would accept them as standard articles of food.

Even in this progressive age, folks are somewhat wary of leaving the beaten path. They stick pretty close to the things they know, when those things come up to their expectations.

That is why alert merchants and manufacturers strive to tell about their products and their services in the advertising columns of the daily paper. They want you to know what they have to offer, in the belief that when you do know, you will be interested, and perhaps inspired, with some of their own enthusiasm.

Thrifty men and women find that it pays to read the advertisements. It enables them to rest assured that they are not overlooking anything. It lets them know where to locate some desired product or service; where to go for "this" or how to get "that" to best advantage. Without its direction they would overlook much and consequently lose much. They would live in ignorance of many things that might add materially to their wealth, health and happiness.

Make advertising your guide to what's good to get.

TIME-TABLE FOR COOKING FRESH VEGETABLES IN BOILING WATER

Splach and Tender-Leaf Vegetables Can Be Cooked Without Water.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Boiling vegetables, although so common and usual a method, is only one of a variety of ways in which they may be prepared for the table. Each vegetable has certain characteristics for which it is liked, and the endeavor in serving should be to emphasize the best qualities. If it is served because of its crisp texture, or its attractive color, or its distinctive flavor, or because it contains some particular nutritious substance, special care should be taken to preserve that characteristic.

Methods of Cooking Vary.

The method of cooking selected depends somewhat on the place of the vegetable in the menu. A fried vegetable or one baked in combination with a protein-rich material may be in texture and flavor an excellent substitute for meat.

Young green peas have a deficiency of flavor and freshness of color that should be preserved by gentle, rather than violent, cooking. Many persons eat raw celery for its crispness; therefore, after it is washed it should be put in a cold place so that it will have that texture. Since spinach is often recommended for children because of its vitamins and its high proportion of iron, every effort should be made to preserve these. Moreover, the method that brings out the good points of a vegetable generally conserves the flavor.

In general, vegetables should be cooked in small quantities of water to which salt has been added in the proportion of one-half teaspoonful to a quart of water. Celery, onions and other strong flavored foods are sometimes exceptions to this rule and are cooked either in large quantities of water or even in two or three waters, so that the flavor will be milder. If the cooking water is saved to flavor soups or sauces, there is no loss of minerals.

Spinach, lettuce and other tender-leaf vegetables can be cooked without the addition of any water. They are succulent enough themselves and have enough water clinging to them after being washed so that they will not stick to the kettle if stirred carefully.

RIPE STRAWBERRIES TEMPT IN DESSERTS

Splendid Recipe for the Experimental Kitchen.

Seasonable Vegetables Suggested as Old-Fashioned "Fruit Sauces." So Useful With Puddings, Cakes and Other Dishes.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A seasonable variation of old-fashioned "fruit sauce" that is so useful with cottage pudding, boiled rice, corn-starch, blanc-mange, sponge cake and other desserts which need a little dressing up is made by using ripe strawberries. The following recipe is from the experimental kitchen of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Strawberry Sauce.

1 cupful powdered sugar, 1-3 cupful butter, 11-3 cupfuls strawberries.

Cream the butter, add the sugar gradually, the egg white beaten stiff, and the strawberries, and beat until the fruit is mashed.

Strawberry Charlotte.

Another very attractive and more elaborate dessert can be easily and quickly made with sponge cake as a basis. Bake the cake in a sheet and cut long strips to line the sides of a glass dish, fill the center with strawberries that have been lightly mixed with whipped cream slightly sweetened and seasoned with a pinch of salt, and serve at once.

Berries combined with whipped cream in this way may also be used without the cake, and to many persons are more delicious than when served with cream in the usual way.

8,000 HIKING CLUBS IN GREATER NEW YORK

They Swing Along Highways and Through Woods in Groups of Varying Size.

New York.—One must walk nowadays to be in the swim. Statistics gleaned from the out-door departments of the newspapers, from the Boy Scout and Campfire Girls' organizations, from the Y. M. C. A. branches and kindred bodies, from scores of amateur athletic clubs and from the leading dealers in sporting goods, indicate that today there are no less than 8,000 hiking clubs in Greater New York, with a total membership of more than a quarter of a million men and women, who are keeping themselves in the pink of condition and experiencing the real joy of living by getting regularly out into the open country with no other means of locomotion than their God-given legs.

The city of New York has taken official notice of the movement. On three occasions recently Mayor Hylan has congratulated the boys and girls of the public schools upon their enthusiasm in taking up the new sport of hiking. In his dedication of the great new public playground in the Bronx the other day Mayor Hylan extolled the athletic tendencies of the boys and girls and impressed upon them that there was no better or more profitable way in which they could pass their vacations and utilize their holidays than by the excursions into field and forest of their walking clubs. He gave the same message to the Amateur Athletic Union of Brooklyn a few days later, and when a club of East Side boys and girls visited him at city hall preparatory to a hike to the tomb of Roosevelt at Orster Bay he assured them that the best walkers among them would make the best citizens.

Walk and Be Well

No less enthusiastic a champion of the walking game is Dr. Royal S. Copeland, city health commissioner. "The benefit to health and the safeguard to morals to be found in long walks," said Dr. Copeland in an interview, "are too apparent to speak of them. If one takes long walks alone it is well, for he walks the road of health, but if he takes long walks in company it is better for he adds the tonic of companionship to his exercise. Walking is the one form of exercise in which there is the minimum risk of overdoing it. In short, I consider walking the most beneficial of all exercises and it is never out of season."

"Never in my life-time," said Edward R. Wilbur, manager of a nationally known sporting goods store, "have I known such a demand as now for outdoor garments and shoes and stock-ings and appliances for the tourist's luncheon box. The rapid spread and tremendous popularity of the walking-club idea has no parallel in our experience."

"The hiker can make his requisite just what he feels like spending. Really, there are only two or three articles indispensable to hiking—thick walking shoes that allow lots of room, thick woolen socks and clothing that will give freedom of limb. He should have a canvas or leather musette bag, such as the soldiers used in France."

and prepared and eaten in the open. Bread and cheese, a few slices of bacon, some coffee, a can of condensed milk, and a cake of chocolate furnish high-powered fuel for the hiker and are readily and happily assimilated even by those who in their pre-hiking days were afflicted with digestive apparatus so feeble as to balk at crackers and milk. Fortunately for the hiker, he can replenish his simplearder at any cross-roads store and provide himself with the most nutritious and appetizing food in a form that can be conveniently carried.

"No single development in the problem of food transportation for the hunter, fisherman, hiker and all lovers of the out-of-doors can compare with the gift bestowed by the man who first found the way to make condensed milk, thereby putting a dairy in every man's knapsack. Before long there will be a national association of hikers, and Gail Borden will be its patron saint. Such an association could do much to encourage the spread of the most beneficial and universal of all outdoor pastimes, map out interesting routes, secure the establishment of shelters, rest-stations, and camp sites at suitable locations, and insure the rights of pedestrians on country roads."

FIREMEN NIP BAD FIRE LAST NIGHT, SAVING BUILDING

The fire alarm sounded for District 44 about 1:30 o'clock this morning, and when the firemen had tunneled their way through the fog to Twelfth and Daley Streets they found a fierce fire burning in the tailoring and dry-cleaning establishment of Frank Bailey. The Bailey Shop was the centre of a row of three buildings, formerly the property of Joe Pratt, but now owned by Messrs. Edward T. Kelly and Walter Welch.

The building on the west side of the Bailey Shop is occupied by Sam Lamandola as a barber shop but as the fire spread in the other directions the butcher shop was but little damaged. The upper floor of the original Pratt Building was occupied by Augustina Marano as a grocery store. The fire communicated to the side of the building but as it was quickly extinguished very little fire damage occurred, but the grocery stock was pretty badly soaked. The basement of this building housed the pool room of C. Tiso. His pool and billiard tables and stock of cigars and tobacco got a good bil- a fwater.

The fire damage will not amount to more than a couple of hundred dollars.

And the Overhead.

"Are you sure you have shown me all the principal parts of this car?" asked the fair prospective purchaser. "Yes, madam, all the main ones," returned the dealer. "Well, then, where is the depreciation? You told me that was one of the biggest things about a car."—American Legion Weekly.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

There has been a wonderful revival of interest in the history of the "Father of Our Country" the immortal George Washington, the past year, and the papers have been full from time to time recently of "unwritten" history concerning old George, who is said to have been somewhat of a gay old duffer in his time.

Heywood Brown, in the New York World, some time ago printed a side light or two on George, one of which elicited the following hitherto unpublished reference to George: "Reading in your column of recent date," writes Rupert Hughes, "the letter about Washington by H. L. who was delighted to find that we had a red headed Father for our country. I am moved to add to his delight the remainder that Washington was also a rabid dancer. He would have been a jazz hound today. Every time the British pursuers let our poor army rest long enough, the officers got up a dance. The privates seem to have devoted most of their leisure to desertion."

"On one occasion George Washington danced for three hours without sitting down. And his partner was the wife of his next best General, Green. Imagine the howl that would have gone up in these wicked times if it had been heard home that Gen. Pershing had danced for three hours with Mrs. Lieut. — at a ball hastily got up just back of the firing line during a lull in the bombardment."

"When I was one of the editors of the 'Historian's History of the World,' he continues, 'I read numbering oath when he rode up to Lee at Monmouth and demanded why the troops were retreating. Everyone said it was one of the rare occasions when Washington cursed, but nobody told just what he said, and I had a gnawing curiosity to know."

"After a vast amount of vain search I turned up the complete records of the court martial proceedings. Lee had resented Washington's manner and the implied rebuke and had instantly asked for a court martial. Washington answered hotly that if Lee had not asked for it he would not have ordered it. In the entire proceedings there was never a hint that Washington used profanity. Lee protested against his tone alone. For an officer to curse another is an unpardonable offense and Lee would certainly have alleged it, if he had been sworn at."

"The fact that he did not even hint at it is pretty good proof that the famous oath was never delivered. On the other hand, Washington was a constant and sincere curser and on occasions he grew hysterical with almost screaming rage."

"So far as I know my brief statement of this in a footnote, is the only correction ever made of this old legend, which is as false as the oakus cherry tree that a ministerial biographer stole from a boy's book to tag Washington with."

"The closer you study Washington's life, the cleaner and nobler it becomes. One British historian well likened him to the only pure white marble statue in the gallery of fame."

"But the closer you study his unofficial life, the more human, frail, passionate, fashionable, gracious, graceful, everyday sinner he becomes."

"Nothing is more contemptible and dishonest than the lies that the unguided tell of him in order to make him one of them. Our great Republic was founded by men whose public lives, religious beliefs and general hilarity were the very opposite of the wax-work models set up as their effigies. "Washington's sacred Mount Verndrinking, gambling, dancing and debauchery, as it would be hard to match nowadays outside of roadhouses overlooked by the authorities.

"The moral of all this is perilous to consider, for it is widely immoral to pervert the facts."

LABOR BOARD WILL SIT TIGHT, SAYS BEN HOOPER, HEAD

Chicago, July 24.—No further action towards ending the railway shopmen's strike is contemplated by the United States Labor Board at this time, Ben Hooper, chairman of the Board, announced tonight, on his return from a conference with President Harding at Washington. Asked whether any new plans looking towards a settlement of the strike had been made, he dictated the following formal statement:

"As might be supposed, the President seeks to know this situation from every angle—from the viewpoint of the carriers, the employees, the Labor Board and the public."

"There is nothing else that can be said just now, other than to answer the question asked me by saying that no further action by the Labor Board is contemplated at this time."

While Mr. Hooper was meeting the Government officials in Washington, B. M. Jewell and other strike leaders were in session with James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor at Mooseheart, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Berthelson and family motored from New Haven, Conn., and are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Estep of Linden street.

Goodrich announces new tire prices —lowest cost mileage ever known

Effective July 20th, Goodrich establishes a revised price list that is a base line of tire value. It gives the motorist the buying advantage of knowing that whatever size tire he selects is of the same quality—the Goodrich one-quality standard. It gives him the longest mileage, the most satisfactory service and the highest quality his money can buy. Results will prove that it is impossible to buy tire mileage at lower cost.

Think of being able to buy Silvertown Cords at such prices as these:

SIZE	BASE LINE PRICE	SIZE	BASE LINE PRICE
30 x 3 1/2 CL.	$13.50	34 x 4 S. B.	$30.85
31 x 3.85 CL.	15.95	32 x 4 1/2 S. B.	37.70
30 x 3 1/2 S. B.	15.95	33 x 4 1/2 S. B.	38.55
32 x 3 1/2 S. B.	22.95	34 x 4 1/2 S. B.	39.50
31 x 4 S. B.	26.45	35 x 4 1/2 S. B.	40.70
32 x 4 S. B.	29.15	33 x 5 S. B.	46.95
33 x 4 S. B.	30.05	35 x 5 S. B.	49.30

No extra charge for excise tax. This tax is paid by Goodrich.

New base line prices are also effective on Goodrich Fabric Tires

SIZE	BASE LINE PRICE	SIZE	BASE LINE PRICE
30 x 3—"55"	$9.65	32 x 4 S. B. Safety	$21.20
30 x 3 1/2—"55"	10.65	33 x 4 S. B. Safety	22.35
32 x 3 1/2 S. B. Safety	16.30	34 x 4 S. B. Safety	22.85

No extra charge for excise tax. This tax is paid by Goodrich.

This revised price list affords the motorist as definite a guide to tire prices as Goodrich Tires are the definite standard of tire quality.

KU KLUX KLAN IS THE DECIDING FACTOR IN TEXAS PRIMARY

Dallas, July 23.—Returns tonight from all sections of Texas on yesterday's Democratic primary, while partial, nevertheless, indicated a sweeping victory for most of the candidates who espoused the cause of the Ku Klux Klan or had the indorsement of that organization. Charles A. Culberson, for twenty-two years the senior Senator from Texas, is running third. He was one of the avowed opponents of the Klan.

Th leading candidate is Earl B. Mayfield, State Railroad Commissioner. According to the returns, Mayfield got the bulk of the Klan support. He did not admit membership in the organization, but its leaders publicly did all they could for him. Former Governor James Ferguson is second. Mr. Ferguson, who was impeached while Governor, denied the Klan, but declared it ought not to be an issue in the contest.

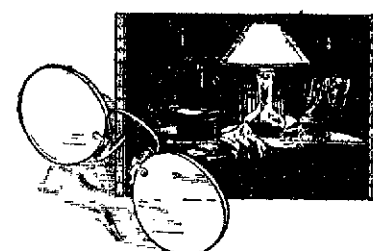

Cullen P. Thomas, fourth in the race, did not take a positive position with reference to the Klan. Ansley, the fifth man, contended himself with the condemning it. Curiously enough, former

R. L. Henry, who publicly declared himself a Klansman, stands last in the race. Henry's friends claim that this is because of a frame-up against him in the Klan councils, which threw the bulk of the Klan votes to Mayfield.

Governor P. M. Neff, a candidate for renomination, unquestionably has won. He has refused to say anything concerning the Klan.

With few exceptions, the Klan's influence seems to have been in every race. They have captured judges, district attorneys, sheriffs and other judicial or executive officers in all parts of Texas.

Figures on returns available tonight, about half the total, showed:

COLVER COMPANY MAKES STATEMENT OF ITS POSITION

Colver, July 22.—"Colver is a closed town", implying that persons not wanted in town by officials of the Ebensburg Coal Company are stopped on the streets and asked to leave "as a necessary and prudent police measure to protect the community."

That is the view of the officials of the coal company as expressed in a manifesto addressed to the employees of the company and posted about town today. A reference in the notice to the

"We do claim the right to rent our houses and extend to our employees the privileges of grazing cows, goats, etc., on the company's property and refuse these privileges which are afforded at Colver without any service in return.

"Our houses were built for our employees and not for those who are trying to force their views upon the company.

"This town is closed as a necessary and prudent police measure and to protect the community."

ENJOY THIS RELIEF FROM HOT WEATHER WASHING

There's no need this season to make a hot day hotter by working over a steaming wash-tub, or hanging out clothes in the blistering sun. Send the washing to us.

We'll wash the bundle in soft, fleecy suds, rinse in many changes of rain-soft water, iron the flatwork, starch those pieces that need it, and leave for you only the ironing of a few lighter things such as most women like to finish themselves. Or, at a slight additional cost, we'll iron everything.

Next washday simply gather together those soiled clothes, bundle them up, and give them to our representative when he calls. A phone call will bring him.

Bill's Fixing Watches

That Haven't Run
Right For A Long
Time

Some of the watches and clocks that have been brought in here lately haven't run for a long time. They are brought in in sort of a hopeless way — "fix it if you can, but I don't think it can be fixed"—and the first thing they know when they are brought in is that it is running along as sweet as can be and keeping good time.

Many a watch or clock has come in here in very bad shape and has gone out again running as it should run.

WAR TIME CONTROL OF RAILROADS AND MINES MAY COME OUT OF FAILURE TO ADJUST WAGE SCALE DISPUTES

Government Believed Prepared To Invoke All The Powers Of Section 402 Of Transportation Act To Keep Fuel And Transportation Going

NO IMPROVEMENT IN CONDITIONS YET

Washington, D. C., July 24.—Powers almost as drastic as those used by the Government during war time will be brought into play in dealing with the rail and mine strikes, it was believed here today.

It was expected that the Interstate Commerce Commission would issue an order declaring that the dual mine and rail strikes constituted a national emergency within the scope of Section 402 of the Transportation Act. Issuance of this decree would result in strong action being taken by the Government to protect the public interests. The Administration in the contemplated step is expected to treat the two emergencies as one.

The plan contemplated by the Government includes the two following steps:

First.—Governmental direction of the railroads and control of the distribution and price of coal.

Second.—Seizure and operation of the mines.

The patience of the President in his effort to bring the warring factions together has been about exhausted and he believes it is his duty to take action, according to Administration Senators, who are in close touch with the President.

The Government's new and sweeping move will be made within two days if the strikers and employers do not manifest a willingness to settle their dispute, one leading Republican Senator said.

WATKINS FLAYS THE UNION OFFICIALS IN STATEMENT

"Rejection" Is A Fixed Habit, "Refusal to Confer" Is Second Nature, Says P. C. & C. Pres.

RENEWES HIS OFFER

Renewing his offer of a sliding scale to the former employees of the Pennsylvania Coal & Coke Corporation, operating in Clearfield, Indiana and Cambria County, Thos. H. Watkins, President, strongly flays the officials of the United States Mine Workers for their refusal to confer on any compromise basis thus far offered and sets forth a list of the occasions on which the leaders have taken a position which prevents an early resumption of mining in this region. In this circular, which we are advised is being sent to all former employees today, Mr. Watkins offers a minimum wage of $1.01 for mining and $5.00 a day for day labor with substantial increases of wages as the price of coal fluctuates.

The Offer

To the Employees of the Pennsylvania Coal & Coke Corporation.

We understand from the newspapers that President Brophy of District No. 2 has rejected our proposed Sliding Scale because "it was too indefinite."

"There will be no response to the Company's invitation for a Conference," Mr. Brophy is quoted as saying.

"Rejection" seems to be a fixed habit of union leaders in this district. "Refusal to Confer," has become second nature.

They have rejected a District Conference. They have rejected all proposals made at the President's National Conference.

They have rejected Arbitration. They have rejected their own demands as a basis for a provisional resumption of work.

DUBOIS HOME BREW ARTISTS VISITED BY "DRY" AGENTS

1500 Gallons of "Dew," Five Stills and Seven Brewers and Distillers Are Taken In Raid.

RAID SAT. MORNING

DuBois, Pa., July 24.—Although there was a number of drunks seen reeling around the streets on Saturday night, the number was somewhat diminished owing to the activities of a set of Federal Officers who quietly entered the city on Saturday morning and proceeded to make a clean sweep of a number of places that were suspected of dispensing "moonshine." So far as known of the places raided are of the "home brew" variety, it not being apparent that any of the bootleggers were disturbed, at least not any of the "big fellows" that are credited with being in the business.

In all seven places were raided, about 1500 gallons of "moonshine" taken, five stills discovered and a large quantity of mash unearthed. Some of the "moonshine" was kept for evidence, but most of it was destroyed.

The raids were in charge of District Agent W. J. Martzoff, who was assisted by William A. Kelton, F. M. Watt, A. R. Foster, W. A. Kunkle, A. K. Smith, all of the Punxsutawney district office.

The raiders made visits to the following places:

M. Maglinski, who lives near the old Wilson school house.

Jos. Korpel, near the old Wilson school house.

KNOX RUN MINER KILLED WHEN CAR IN WHICH HE WAS RIDING HITS ANOTHER; TROLLEY TRACK SLEEPER LOSES LEG

Driver Of Ford Did Not See Car Alongside Of State Highway, As It Was Left Standing There Without Any Lights Burning—Pedestrian Is Hit Near The Water Dam.

DAVID FISH IS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

One man dead, on man cut off and otherwise injured, one with head lacerations and still another with painful bruises, is the toll of a series of three accidents along the state road from the Lakeside Park Dam to the Allport trolley station happening on Saturday night within a period of three hours.

In sequence it all happened as follows: Jack Balbos of Morrisdale was walking along the state highway below Morrisdale about 11:30 Saturday evening when he was run down by a Buick roadster which knocked him down inflicting painful bruises but although the Buick was running at a high rate of speed he escaped with only minor injuries. The injured man was hurried to the doctor where his injuries were promptly attended.

Coward Ran Away

Morrisdale people are incensed at the unwarranted and cowardly action of the driver of the Buick which hit Balbos. Not only was it running at a high rate of speed but upon hitting Balbos the driver stepped on the gas and made his getaway without making any effort to determine the extent of his victims' injuries. Witnesses declare that the first three numbers on the license were "266."

While the doctor was attending to Balbos another accident took place directly in front of the White residence in Morrisdale in which John Kovelesky, a Knox Run miner, aged about 45 years, was killed and the driver of the Ford and another man sitting on the front seat were cut and bruised. The car in which Kovelesky was a passenger was leaving the town enroute to Knox Run which is in Cooper township. Shortly after passing the trolley tracks before reaching the White residence a Studebaker approached them coming from the direction of Allport. In turning out to pass the approaching car the Kovelesky car crashed into a Ford car, owned by a resident of the Sington community by the name of Beveridge which was parked along side of the road with the two side wheels on the ground and the other two on the cement. There was no lights on the parked car and this is thought to be the reason for the side collision. Kovelesky, who is a widower with three children, sustained a broken neck. The car in which he was riding was badly damaged but the parked car suffered little injury.

Why Do They Do It?

What makes people fill one theatre night after night for 443 nights for one play and stay away from another theatre with another play, as though it were a plague spot?

One play is doubtless as widely advertised as the other and the casts of both are probably equal in ability. And yet the crowd goes to one and stays away from the other.

Of course the answer is plain. One has merit; the other has not. The play which is to be given on the Chautauqua program is one of the few good ones, the few which have had exceptionally long runs in New York and Chicago, this proving without a doubt that "they have the goods."

"Turn to the Right" ran 443 nights in New York and 219 nights in Chicago. It is called "The comedy that will live forever." It has the heart interest of the ever-compelling story of mother-love. It is clean. People who are familiar with the Chautauqua type of play agree that this is a fine example of the type.

A special single admission price of $1.00 is announced for the attraction, but season ticket holders will escape this extra tax. This looks like an opportunity for lovers of drama, especially comedy-drama.

WHOLE WEEK OF FUN AND ENTERTAINMENT WILL SOON BE HERE

A glance at the full page advertisement in this issue on the Chautauqua offerings for this season should convince anybody that this organization offers more for the money in wholesome fun, amusement and entertainment than can be gotten in any other way. To those who love the theatre, the play "Turn to the Right" is to be given by full company. Ralph Bingham, the humorist, is another headliner on the bill. But look at the page to see the rest of the offerings. To attend all of the attractions offered, were they given by separate booking houses, would cost in the neighborhood of twenty dollars yet the whole week's entertainment can be had for three dollars.

Ticket sellers will be on the wing tomorrow morning and the solicitation will be continued until the quota is sold. Everybody should buy early and thus save the solicitors a lot of valuable time.

POLLACK STORE TO BE REBUILT AT ONCE SAYS OWNER

Merchant L. W. Pollack informs the Progress that he will begin the repairing and remodeling of his Market Street store and flat building just as soon as the insurance adjusters get through with their examination and report on the amount of damage caused by the recent fire.

Investigation of the fire appears to establish the fact that it was caused by the electric wiring.

PHILIPSBURG MAN WOULD WED SWAMP BABY'S MOTHER

New York, July 23.—In his mail yesterday, Magistrate O'Neill, in the Fifth Avenue Court, Brooklyn, received a letter from a man in Philipsburg, Pa., who wants to marry Leah Silver, mother of the baby found in the marsh lands bordering Coney Island creek.

The writer says he sympathizes with the young woman, and if she does not care to marry him he is willing to care for her children, the one found in the marsh and the one about to be born.

The man says he is a college graduate and about 30 years older than Miss Silver. He says he has a substantial income and owns $15,000 worth of property besides 14 acres of coal land. He signed the letter "W. B. Box 252, Philipsburg, Centre County, Pa." Magistrate O'Neill forwarded the letter to Miss Silver, who is in the Bay Ridge Sanitarium.

Harding Gets Reports

Washington, July 24.—Reports of the situation in Western Pennsylvania where attempts are being made to operate union mines with troop protection are understood to have been given to President Harding today by A. P. Moore, Pittsburgh publisher, and former State Senator Flynn, who spent nearly an hour at the White House this morning. Moore and Flynn declined to comment directly on their conference with Harding except to state the coal situation was discussed in a general way. Secretary Mellen joined the conference before it was terminated.

Exceptional Musical Program Coming

There is no class of music more beautiful, more helpful, more inspiring, more uplifting, and contributed to more bountifully by the world's greatest music masters, than that which is composed to be sung during services of divine worship.

Considering that the opportunity to hear these wonderful compositions rendered by a body of trained singers is far too rare in most communities, the Dunbar Philharmonic Choir is presented at the Chautauqua, not only as a company of artists to entertain, but as a suggestion of a choir ideal; such an organization as might appropriately adorn any sacred portal. In presenting these artists it is hoped that wherever they appear, they may inspire a desire for more beautiful music in the worship of God.

The repertoire of the Philharmonic Choir includes a number of short, modern oratorios by such composers as Buck, Stafler and Schneider, one of which is rendered at each performance, this being the first company in the history of the Chautauqua to offer such works in their entirety. The programs also include a number of old hymns, the interpretation of which is a special feature. As a fitting contrast to the sacred music, and by way of furnishing a striking climax and finish, the company is heard in a number of secular songs, duets, quartets and choruses of a very high order, finally closing with a grand finale, "Cavalleria Rusticana."

AUDITORS ANNOUNCE MORE JUGGLING OF TREASURY FUNDS

Harrisburg, Pa., July 24.—Allegheny County treasurer's checks amounting to $20,277.87, dated December 30th, 1919, received in exchange for several blank checks were deposited to the credit of the account of John A. Bell, declared the certified public accountants auditing the State Treasurer's books in a supplemental report in the hands of the Auditor General.

The $20,277.87 was deposited to the credit of the Commonwealth nearly a year later by deposit of one of the blank checks filled out for that amount. This report, supplemental to Section 4 of the Main report, was announced only a few hours before Bell was to become a witness at the hearing. This check was meanwhile charged to the accounts subject to check in the Carnegie Trust Company of which Bell is President.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 24.—Summarizing their investigation of the transactions between former State Treasurer Harmon M. Kephart and Bell the auditors reported the following:

Certain checks received from the County Treasurer of Armstrong County were entered on the records of the State Treasury as if after receipt at Harrisburg the same were held and not deposited. As a matter of fact these checks had been endorsed, and exchanged for undated blank checks signed Carnegie Trust Company, John A. Bell, President.

The blank checks above referred to were presumably not used until some time after their receipt.

Had the original County Treasurer's checks been deposited in due course, or the checks acquired in exchange deposited immediately, interest would (Continued on Page 7)

Bringing the car to a quick stop the carmen found that the victim was David Fish, who lived only a few hundred yards away along the state road. Fish had been to Phillipsburg earlier in the evening and was seen in Morrisdale business places about midnight at which time he appeared to have been drinking. His injuries, a leg cut off and other serious injuries internally, are very serious and he may not recover. He is being treated at the Phillipsburg hospital. It is believed that Fish sank in a stupor and knew nothing of the approach of the trolley car and it is said that he did not regain consciousness for several hours after the accident.

GEARHART'S WIN FROM NEW MILLPORT

Last Saturday afternoon Gearhart's Yarn Busters, looking for new worlds to conquer, journeyed up to the little village of New Millport and took their crack team into camp in a long distance marathon by a score of 21 to 17.

Everybody hit in spite of, or due to the fact that it was a good day to try out pitchers. The Busters used a new one every third inning, while New Millport went them one better, having four men on the mound in the nine sessions.

TELEPHONE GIRLS PICNIC

A bevy of girls employed in the local H. & C. Telephone exchange dropped "number please" and "line's busy" long enough Saturday afternoon to tie themselves out to View Point Camp, where they rusticated, picniced and enjoyed themselves to the limit over Sunday.

The party was in charge of Miss Mary Shaffer and she proved to be a highly capable "captain." The picnicers are all on the job this morning very much refreshed from their outing and pausing along the benefits of the recreation in extra promptness and cheerful service.

Washington, after howling for it for 12 months.

They have rejected a fact-finding agency as is embodied in the Sliding Scale.

They have rejected our invitation to an immediate conference on the Sliding Scale which offers them a basis of partnership without risk to them.

This Company has broken away from its associates in this District has used its own best judgement as to a fair basis for getting back to work. It is about time that some of the sober, sensible men who have worked in our mines for years and lived in the homes and communities which have grown up around them to assert themselves and exercise a sense of responsibility to their families and their fellow men, and to demand of their elected leaders that they change their stubborn and disastrous methods.

The policy which your leaders have pursued for the past 15 months has thrown most of this District into short work or idleness, and if continued means poverty of the miners and ruin of all of the industries of Central Pennsylvania and of the communities where you have made your living and in which many of you own your own homes.

As To The Sliding Scale
What is there indefinite about a wage scale in effect when the Armistice was signed in 1918? If anyone doesn't remember it send him a copy of the scale agreement in effect at that time, which wage scale we offer as a minimum base.

What is there indefinite about an agreement to increase these rates one per cent. for each 1 per cent increase in the price of coal obtained by us in excess of the 1918 fair price fixed by the Government and in effect at the time of the Armistice—$2.95 a net ton.

What is there indefinite about an offer that invites you to appoint a committee to audit monthly the prices received by us for coal?

If some details need clearing up or are not satisfactory, why not come and talk it over with us man to man and tell us how you think it should be changed?

To give an idea of how this scale would work out from month to month at different prices we cite the following examples:

a. If the prices we receive average $2.95, or less, the miners would still receive the base rate of $1.0115 per gross ton for pick coal and a base rate of $5.00 for inside labor.
b. If the price received for any month averages $3.245, which is 10 per cent. above $2.95, then wage rates would be increased 20 per cent.
c. If the price received averages $3.45 at the mines, or 20 per cent. above $2.95, then wage rates would be increased 20 per cent.
d. At $4.13 for coal, wage rates would be increased 40 per cent. making the pick rate $1.4161 a gross ton. The rate of a $5 a day man would be $7.00.
e. At $4.425 for coal, wage rates would be increased 50 per cent. and the miners' pick rate would be $1.5173.

WATCH THE MILK YOU GIVE THE KIDDIES

Now's the time when a multitude of germs are lurking round and willing to take hold wherever they get a chance. And, we don't know whether or not you are aware of it, but milk CAN be the greatest germ carrier ever. But YOU'RE SAFE—ABSOLUTELY SAFE—IF YOU LET YOUR KIDDIES DRINK OUR MILK.
Our milk has gone through the pasteurization process and this destroys all the germs that might cause trouble and bring sickness.
The milk we serve you with gets the most scrupulous care from the time it leaves the farm until it reaches your table and you may let the kiddies have all they wish at all times.

Clearfield Dairy Co.

The $5-a-day man would get $7.50. And so on, should prices go higher, which is unreasonable to expect as a permanent basis.
g. At the intermediate prices between those cited above, the scale applies in the same manner. Wages would be adjusted 1 per cent. if the price increase was only 1 per cent.

If your officers won't talk to us, we can go no farther, unless committees of our men want to meet us. We again invite you or your leaders. We have shown our willingness to try to work out a co-operative plan that will give a square deal, provide steady work, and coal production which you and your fellow-workers in other industries now need in order to maintain themselves and families. How long will the patriotic, thrifty and industrious men of this community be indifferent and fail to assert their opinion in any fashion when their leaders turn down all our conciliatory offers? How long are they going to permit their leaders to arrogantly refuse to accept the assistance of the President of the United States which he so generously extended to them in the Washington Conference?

HOW TO KEEP YOUR BABY WELL

A Weekly Talk To Mothers Issued Through The Babies' Prophylactic Clinic, Henry Phipps Institution, 7th and Lombard Streets, Philadelphia.

Care of the Older Child in the Summer

While it is true that during the summer time, babies need exceptional care and attention, it must not be forgotten that the older children need it too.

Older children are more frequently subject to intestinal diseases in the summer time than at any other time of the year. Because they are not under the continued observation of their parents and teachers, as they are during the school months, they have more opportunity to eat various indigestible foods. Parents themselves may unconsciously aid their children in obtaining faulty foods by giving them pennies to spend at the corner candy or grocery stores.

It is very necessary for mothers to supervise their children's activities as much as possible. First of all, they must be given food regularly. Eating between meals must be discouraged. A child grows much much better and is more able to digest its food properly if that food is given at regular, stated intervals.

The food in itself must be, first of all, nourishing and secondly, easy to digest. Growing and active children require those foods which make for their proper development. Briefly, these consist of milk, bread, cereals, eggs, a small amount of fresh meat or vegetables. Candy and ice cream will do no harm, provided they are given after meals. If given between meals, they interfere with the digestion of the regular food and spoil the appetite for the next meal. It would be much better for mothers to

IT TO THEIR CHILDREN REGULARLY AFTER MEALS, THAN TO ALLOW THEM TO BUY CHEAP CANDY FOR THEMSELVES.

Besides proper food, children must have enough rest. They should be put to bed at an early hour and not kept up just because it is hot. Very young children should have a rest period in the middle of the day, even if they do not sleep. They should be put in a darkened room and made to keep as quiet as possible. The importance of this mid-day rest period cannot be over emphasized. It prevents the over-tiredness, nervousness and irritability which are so commonly seen in children.

HAPPY SURPRISE

FOR AGED LADY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Welch at Mt. Zion was the scene of a happy family gathering Saturday evening when about ninety guests and relatives gathered to honor Mrs. Sara A. Nelson who that day passed the eightieth milestone of life's journey. A great feast in honor of Mrs. Nelson had been prepared and the table groaned with the goodies of the season. Happy as were the guests, Mrs. Nelson seemed to enjoy the surprise more than her guests and joined in the jollification both before and after the repast. Mrs. Nelson is in excellent health after all life work which knew no hours too long or sacrifice too great and the children, of whom there are seven living, thirty nine grand children and fifteen great grand children, will all testify to this statement. At present she lives with her daughter Mrs. Guy Livergood, of Clearfield, occupying her own side of the house Mrs. Welch is also a daughter. Most of her life has been spent in the vicinity of Shawville with the exception of the nine years she has been living here. In addition to the immediate relatives and local friends those present were Mr. and Mrs. Christ Falk, of Houtzdale; Mr. and Mrs. Claire McCoy of Ginter; H. A. Kyler and wife Wm. F. Rich and wife of Shawville and Mrs. Wallace, wife of the Shawville pastor; E. A. Nelson of North Bend, Pa.; S. K. Williams and wife of Clearfield; George Nelson and wife Guy Livergood and wife, Dr. J. M. Owigley and wife and Genevieve Williams of Akron.

A Guide to What's Good to Get

Some one has said that if bread and butter were new inventions they would have to be advertised before people would accept them as standard articles of food.

Even in this progressive age, folks are somewhat wary of leaving the beaten path. They stick pretty close to the things they know, when those things come up to their expectations.

That is why alert merchants and manufacturers strive to tell about their products and their services in the advertising columns of the daily paper. They want you to know what they have to offer, in the belief that when you do know, you will be interested, and perhaps inspired, with some of their own enthusiasm.

Thrifty men and women find that it pays to read the advertisements. It enables them to rest assured that they are not overlooking anything. It lets them know where to locate some desired product or service; where to go for "this" or how to get "that" to best advantage. Without its direction they would overlook much and consequently lose much. They would live in ignorance of many things that might add materially to their wealth, health and happiness.

Make advertising your guide to what's good to get.

MINERS, DO YOUR OWN THINKING

It is not the intent of this article to infer that miners have not been doing their own thinking. Through all the years in which they have gained better working conditions and better wages, with never a reduction or a set-back of any sort, it is quite plain that they have been thinking in mass formation and acting in like manner.

To those few who are imbued with the spell binder's and radical editor's inspired preachings that capital is seeking to crush the man with the dinner pail under his heel there is little use of reasoning or arguing. To these it is inviting disaster to even suggest that there is truth or justice in any man who employs a laborer in any capacity, but these few are in the minority, albeit the noisy minority who immediately cut off a sane and sensible conversation about industrial matters with threats and intimidations.

It is to the great majority of miners who at present are in the watchful waiting mood that this article is addressed. As particularly to those who were employed by the company of which Mr. Thomas Watkins is president.

Mr. Watkins has made you an offer. He will meet you personally, your elected delegates or committee or the local union officers of this district to work out the minor details of a plan which virtually offers you a partnership in his company; even more than a partnership, a sharing in the profits without any liability whatever. He has done this only after futile attempts to deal through your regular union officers, who are bound hand and foot by their allegiance to the national officers. You know that District No. 2 would have been able to make a settlement long ago, had it not been that this district was hamstrung. A case of the tail wagging the dog, pure and simple. And you are the sufferers.

In this day of readjustment in every industry and in every life, your national officers resolutely refuse to compromise on a single item. Before the public, you stand alone by reason of this policy, and it is to the public you must appeal for a final verdict.

The offer made by Mr. Watkins very much oversteps anything ever offered in the industrial world. To begin with it offers a fair shake all around and the possibilities for unlimited and unceasing peace between you and your employer are wonderful.

Why hold back from giving it your best consideration? We can name your reasons and they are two in number

First,—Fear of condemnation from the noisy minority, most of them men with no family responsibility who can afford to continue idle.

Second,—A feeling of loyalty to your organization.

Dispose of the first reason by asserting your belief and convictions as yourself, your family and society in general is effected.

The second reason is a more serious proposition. Loyalty is a gem; a virtue. Without loyalty nations would totter, friendship would be a meaningless word, organizations hopeless shams. Your loyalty to your organization has never been questioned, your fidelity and faithfulness a watchword in the annals of organized labor.

You are not asked to renounce your belief or convictions in this respect. You are not asked to desert the principle of collective bargaining, in fact you are invited to participate to a fuller measure in the fruits of that well established custom. You are not asked to break away from the United Mine Workers of America.

You are, however, invited to make a break through the stone wall of short-sighted leadership which has been imposed on you, and to share, not to the exclusion of others, for such a beneficent scheme is sure to spread until the whole industry is affected, in the fruits of your labor in addition to receiving wages and resuming your normal methods of living.

The situation today with respect to the possibility of the Lewis program winning in this strike is not hopeless, but it is much less hopeful. We venture the prediction that the acceptance of the Watkins offer will be a way of procuring a better settlement than will be gained finally by other methods and that the acceptance of the Watkins offer will be the signal for the headstrong officers of both miners and operators who have prevented a compromise to fall in line with the profit sharing plan.

Miners, think it over. Talk it over. Say what you think. Just like the other fellow does.

A GREAT ACHIEVEMENT

Unheralded and uncelebrated though it was, July 17th marked another long step forward in human progress. On that day the United States air mail service completed a year of operation unmarked by a single fatality. During this period the planes flying on the New York to San Francisco route covered 1,750,000 miles, and more than 49,000,000 letters totaling 1,224,500 pounds were transported by air.

If doubt still remained in the mind of anyone that the mails of the future will be moved through the air, swiftly and safely, this remarkable feat of the pioneer air mail service should dispel it. Its record also proves that aviation has made much more progress than the casualty lists of the "daredevils" have indicated. These mail flyers flew a distance equal to flying seventy times around the earth without a single fatal accident. It is at once a vindication of the aerial mail service, and also of aviation.

The record of the air mail service for the past year proves more conclusively than any other test ever made, the reliability and the efficiency of the airplane in commercial service. Through every kind of weather, summer, fall, winter and spring, and over mountains, deserts and forests, the Post Office Department air mail planes flew. The percentage of trips actually completed was 92.5 as compared with 88 per cent for the last fiscal year. The percentage of schedule miles actually flown was even higher, totaling 94 per cent.

While routes totaling 820 miles were discontinued during the last fiscal year and only the transcontinental route of 2,680 miles maintained, the Air Mail Service nevertheless carried the same amount of mail as it did last year or 23 per cent more in each airplane load.

Officials of the air mail service attribute the record of no fatal accidents in a year to the fact that all their pilots now are experienced and tried and they knew the routes. The mechanics too, are more experienced. The previous year was a pioneer year. Then the pilots were learning the routes they were flying and the field and hangar equipment was inadequate. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1921, 17 people died in accidents in the air mail service. Many of the fatalities occurred with the metal monoplanes which were abandoned.

TIME-TABLE FOR COOKING FRESH VEGETABLES IN BOILING WATER

Splach and Tender-Leaf Vegetables Can Be Cooked Without Water.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Boiling vegetables, although so common and usual a method, is only one of a variety of ways in which they may be prepared for the table. Each vegetable has certain characteristics for which it is liked, and the endeavor in serving should be to emphasize the best qualities. If it is served because of its crisp texture, or its attractive color, or its distinctive flavor, or because it contains some particular nutritious substance, special care should be taken to preserve that characteristic.

Methods of Cooking Vary.

The method of cooking selected depends somewhat on the place of the vegetable in the menu. A fried vegetable or one baked in combination with a protein-rich material may be in texture and flavor an excellent substitute for meat.

Young green peas have a deficiency of flavor and freshness of color that should be preserved by gentle, rather than violent, cooking. Many persons eat raw celery for its crispness; therefore, after it is washed it should be put in a cold place so that it will have that texture. Since spinach is often recommended for children because of its vitamins and its high proportion of iron, every effort should be made to preserve these. Moreover, the method that brings out the good points of a vegetable generally conserves the flavor.

In general, vegetables should be cooked in small quantities of water to which salt has been added in the proportion of one-half teaspoonful to a quart of water. Celery, onions and other strong flavored foods are sometimes exceptions to this rule and are cooked either in large quantities of water or even in two or three waters, so that the flavor will be milder. If the cooking water is saved to flavor soups or sauces, there is no loss of minerals.

Spinach, lettuce and other tender-leaf vegetables can be cooked without the addition of any water. They are succulent enough themselves and have enough water clinging to them after being washed so that they will not stick to the kettle if stirred carefully.

RIPE STRAWBERRIES TEMPT IN DESSERTS

Splendid Recipe for the Experimental Kitchen.

Seasonable Vegetables Suggested as Old-Fashioned "Fruit Sauces." So Useful With Puddings, Cakes and Other Dishes.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A seasonable variation of old-fashioned "fruit sauce" that is so useful with cottage pudding, boiled rice, corn-starch, blanc-mange, sponge cake and other desserts which need a little dressing up is made by using ripe strawberries. The following recipe is from the experimental kitchen of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Strawberry Sauce.

1 cupful powdered sugar, 1-3 cupful butter, 11-3 cupfuls strawberries.

Cream the butter, add the sugar gradually, the egg white beaten stiff, and the strawberries, and beat until the fruit is mashed.

Strawberry Charlotte.

Another very attractive and more elaborate dessert can be easily and quickly made with sponge cake as a basis. Bake the cake in a sheet and cut long strips to line the sides of a glass dish, fill the center with strawberries that have been lightly mixed with whipped cream slightly sweetened and seasoned with a pinch of salt, and serve at once.

Berries combined with whipped cream in this way may also be used without the cake, and to many persons are more delicious than when served with cream in the usual way.

8,000 HIKE CLUBS IN GREATER NEW YORK

They Swing Along Highways and Through Woods in Groups of Varying Size.

New York.—One must walk nowadays to be in the swim. Statistics gleaned from the out-door departments of the newspapers, from the Boy Scout and Campfire Girls' organizations, from the Y. M. C. A. branches and kindred bodies, from scores of amateur athletic clubs and from the leading dealers in sporting goods, indicate that today there are no less than 8,000 hiking clubs in Greater New York, with a total membership of more than a quarter of a million men and women, who are keeping themselves in the pink of condition and experiencing the real joy of living by getting regularly out into the open country with no other means of locomotion than their God-given legs.

"Best Walkers Make Best Citizens," Says Mayor of New York.

The city of New York has taken official notice of the movement. On three occasions recently Mayor Hylan has congratulated the boys and girls of the public schools upon their enthusiasm in taking up the new sport of hiking. In his dedication of the great new public playground in the Bronx the other day Mayor Hylan extolled the athletic tendencies of the boys and girls and impressed upon them that there was no better or more profitable way in which they could pass their vacations and utilize their holidays than by the excursions into field and forest of their walking clubs. He gave the same message to the Amateur Athletic Union of Brooklyn a few days later, and when a club of East Side boys and girls visited him at city hall preparatory to a hike to the tomb of Roosevelt at Orster Bay he assured them that the best walkers among them would make the best citizens.

Walk and Be Well

No less enthusiastic a champion of the walking game is Dr. Royal S. Copeland, city health commissioner. "The benefit to health and the safeguard to morals to be found in long walks," said Dr. Copeland in an interview, "are too apparent to speak of them. If one takes long walks alone it is well, for he walks the road of health, but if he takes long walks in company it is better for he adds the tonic of companionship to his exercise. Walking is the one form of exercise in which there is the minimum risk of overdoing it. In short, I consider walking the most beneficial of all exercises and it is never out of season."

"Never in my life-time," said Edward R. Wilbur, manager of a nationally known sporting goods store, "have I known such a demand as now for outdoor garments and shoes and stockings and appliances for the tourist's luncheon box. The rapid spread and tremendous popularity of the walking-club idea has no parallel in our experience."

"The hiker can make his requisite just what he feels like spending. Really, there are only two or three articles indispensable to hiking—thick walking shoes that allow lots of room, thick woolen socks and clothing that will give freedom of limb. He should have a canvas or leather mousette bag, such as the soldiers used in France."

and prepared and eaten in the open. Bread and cheese, a few slices of bacon, some coffee, a can of condensed milk, and a cake of chocolate furnish high-powered fuel for the hiker and are readily and happily assimilated even by those who in their pre-hiking days were afflicted with digestive apparatus so feeble as to balk at crackers and milk. Fortunately for the hiker, he can replenish his simplearder at any cross-roads store and provide himself with the most nutritious and appetizing food in a form that can be conveniently carried.

"No single development in the problem of food transportation for the hunter, fisherman, hiker and all lovers of the out-of-doors can compare with the gift bestowed by the man who first found the way to make condensed milk, thereby putting a dairy in every man's knapsack. Before long there will be a national association of hikers, and Gail Borden will be its patron saint. Such an association could do much to encourage the spread of the most beneficial and universal of all outdoor pastimes, map out interesting routes, secure the establishment of shelters, rest-stations, and camp sites at suitable locations, and insure the rights of pedestrians on country roads."

FIREMEN NIP BAD FIRE LAST NIGHT, SAVING BUILDING

The fire alarm sounded for District 44 about 1:30 o'clock this morning and when the firemen had tunneled their way through the fog to Twelfth and Daley Streets they found a fierce fire burning in the tailoring and dry-cleaning establishment of Frank Bailey. The Bailey Shop was the centre of a row of three buildings, formerly the property of Joe Pratt, but now owned by Messrs. Edward T. Kelly and Walter Welch.

The building on the west side of the Bailey Shop is occupied by Sam Lamandola as a barber shop but as the fire spread in the other directions the butcher shop was but little damaged. The upper floor of the original Pratt Building was occupied by Augustina Marano as a grocery store. The fire communicated to the side of the building but as it was quickly extinguished very little fire damage occurred, but the grocery stock was pretty badly soaked. The basement of this building housed the pool room of C. Tiso. His pool and billiard tables and stock of cigars and tobacco got a good bill of water.

The fire damage will not amount to more than a couple of hundred dollars.

And the Overhead.

"Are you sure you have shown me all the principal parts of this car?" asked the fair prospective purchaser. "Yes, ma'am, all the main ones," returned the dealer. "Well, then, where is the depreciable?" "You told me that was one of the biggest things about a car,"—American Legion Weekly.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

There has been a wonderful revival of interest in the history of the "Father of Our Country" the immortal George Washington, the past year, and the papers have been full from time to time recently of "unwritten" history concerning old George, who is said to have been somewhat of a gay old duffer in his time.

Heywood Brown, in the New York World, some time ago printed a side light or two on George, one of which elicited the following hitherto unpublished reference to George: "Reading in your column of recent date" writes Rupert Hughes, "the letter about Washington by H. L. who was delighted to find that we had a red headed Father for our country. I am moved to add to his delight the remainder that Washington was also a rabid dancer. He would have been a jazz hound today. Every time the British pursuers let our poor army rest long enough, the officers got up a dance. The privates seem to have devoted most of their leisure to desertion."

"On one occasion George Washington danced for three hours without sitting down. And his partner was the wife of his next best General, Green. Imagine the howl that would have gone up in these wicked times if it had been wired home that Gen. Pershing had danced for three hours with Mrs. Lieut. — at a ball hastily got up just back of the firing line during a lull in the bombardment."

"When I was one of the editors of the 'Historian's History of the World,' he continues, 'I read numbering oath when he rode up to Lee at Monmouth and demanded why the troops were retreating. Everyone said it was one of the rare occasions when Washington cursed, but nobody told just what he said, and I had a gnawing curiosity to know."

"After a vast amount of vain search I turned up the complete records of the court martial proceedings. Lee had resented Washington's manner and the implied rebuke and had instantly asked for a court martial. Washington answered hotly that if Lee had not asked for it he would not have ordered it. In the entire proceedings there was never a hint that Washington used profanity. Lee protested against his tone alone. For an officer to curse another is an unpardonable offense and Lee would certainly have alleged it, if he had been sworn at."

"The fact that he did not even hint at it is pretty good proof that the famous oath was never delivered. On the other hand, Washington was a constant and sincere curser and on occasions he grew hysterical with almost screaming rage."

"So far as I know my brief statement of this in a footnote, is the only correction ever made of this old legend, which is as false as the oakus cherry tree that a ministerial biographer stole from a boy's book to tag Washington with."

"The closer you study Washington's life, the cleaner and nobler it becomes. One British historian well likened him to the only pure white marble statue in the gallery of fame."

"But the closer you study his unofficial life, the more human, frail, passionate, fashionable, gracious, graceful, everyday sinner he becomes."

"Nothing is more contemptible and dishonest than the lies that the unguided tell of him in order to make him one of them. Our great Republic was founded by men whose public lives, religious beliefs and general hilarity were the very opposite of the wax-work models set up as their effigies. "Washington's sacred Mount Verndrinking, gambling, dancing and debauchery, as it would be hard to match nowadays outside of roadhouses overlooked by the authorities.

"The moral of all this is perilous to consider, for it is widely immoral to pervert the facts."

LABOR BOARD WILL SIT TIGHT, SAYS BEN HOOPER, HEAD

Chicago, July 24.—No further action towards ending the railway shopmen's strike is contemplated by the United States Labor Board at this time, Ben Hooper, chairman of the Board, announced tonight, on his return from a conference with President Harding at Washington. Asked whether any new plans looking towards a settlement of the strike had been made, he dictated the following formal statement:

"As might be supposed, the President seeks to know this situation from every angle—from the viewpoint of the carriers, the employees, the Labor Board and the public."

"There is nothing else that can be said just now, other than to answer the question asked me by saying that no further action by the Labor Board is contemplated at this time."

While Mr. Hooper was meeting the Government officials in Washington, B. M. Jewell and other strike leaders were in session with James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor at Mooseheart, Illinois.

Goodrich announces new tire prices —lowest cost mileage ever known

Effective July 20th, Goodrich establishes a revised price list that is a base line of tire value. It gives the motorist the buying advantage of knowing that whatever size tire he selects is of the same quality—the Goodrich one-quality standard. It gives him the longest mileage, the most satisfactory service and the highest quality his money can buy. Results will prove that it is impossible to buy tire mileage at lower cost.

Think of being able to buy Silvertown Cords at such prices as these:

SIZE	BASE LINE PRICE	SIZE	BASE LINE PRICE
30 x 3 1/2 CL.	$13.50	34 x 4 S. B.	$30.85
31 x 3.85 CL.	15.95	32 x 4 1/2 S. B.	37.70
30 x 3 1/2 S. B.	15.95	33 x 4 1/2 S. B.	38.55
32 x 3 1/2 S. B.	22.95	34 x 4 1/2 S. B.	39.50
31 x 4 S. B.	26.45	35 x 4 1/2 S. B.	40.70
32 x 4 S. B.	29.15	33 x 5 S. B.	46.95
33 x 4 S. B.	30.05	35 x 5 S. B.	49.30

No extra charge for excise tax. This tax is paid by Goodrich.

New base line prices are also effective on Goodrich Fabric Tires

SIZE	BASE LINE PRICE	SIZE	BASE LINE PRICE
30 x 3—"55"	$9.65	32 x 4 S. B. Safety	$21.20
30 x 3 1/2—"55"	10.65	33 x 4 S. B. Safety	22.35
32 x 3 1/2 S. B. Safety	16.30	34 x 4 S. B. Safety	22.85

No extra charge for excise tax. This tax is paid by Goodrich.

This revised price list affords the motorist as definite a guide to tire prices as Goodrich Tires are the definite standard of tire quality.

"FATHER" OF "JIGGS" SHOWS 'EM HOW

Revealed for the first time "How Dinty Moore Cooks Corned Beef and Cabbage."—By Eugene K. Campbell.

Constant readers of George McManus's famous cartoon "Bringing Up Father" who may have wondered why Jiggs, the principal character in the comic, is ready always to resort to any trick or artifice to escape from Maggie and join a choice group of his friends over a dish of corned beef and cabbage at Dinty Moore's, will undoubtedly understand better the lure which Dinty's fare holds for Jiggs after they have heard from McManus himself how corned beef and cabbage should be prepared.

During a recent visit of McManus to Detroit all the hotels of that city arranged for a "McManus Day" programme in their dining rooms with corned beef and cabbage as the principal delicacy on the menu. It was prepared under the cartoonist's own direction following a recipe wired him by Dinty Moore from New York. Here is the secret:

"Make your own corned beef, sugar cured and flavored with thyme cloves and other choice spices.

"After taking it out of the brine, wash it and put it in a kettle with cold water and place it on a fire. It should boil at least three hours in order to make it nice and tender. However, some pieces require more cooking.

When it starts to boil it should be skimmed. The corned beef is then removed from the fire.

"The cabbage should be cut into quarters after the core has been removed and placed in the briny water. If the water is too salty some fresh water should be added. The cabbage is boiled until it is almost done. Then the corned beef is put back and potatoes added. This is cooked until the potatoes are done. Then it is ready to serve.

This picture shows Mr. McManus giving his corned beef and cabbage orders to the chef of the hotel where he stayed. Try the recipe once and become a fan like Jiggs for the rest of your life."

Sam Sandy, 1007, South Brady St. Louis Prdie, alias Charlie Chaplin, Room 18, Wayne Hotel.

Thomas Marando, South Franklin Street.

Carl A. Johnson, 101 Evergreen St.

Some of these places it is stated were known as more or less openly violating the Constitution of the United States by the manufacturing and selling of liquor, while others were not suspected. The evidence against the various places raided was secured by agents from the district headquarters at Punxsutawney, who had been working in this city for some little time.

The raiding party arrived in DuBois in automobiles shortly after 9 o'clock and without consulting anyone, nor even telling the local authorities went at their work starting in at Sandy Township. A large amount of contraband was taken, several stills uncovered, and while these were being guarded the main detachment of raiders came into the city and proceeded to "mop up" around town. At the Marando store they found but parts of a still, but declare there was sufficient evidence to substantiate charges against Marando.

It is declared that the agents of the district office have been working in DuBois for some little time in the securing of evidence and the raids made on Saturday represents only a small portion of the evidence actually secured, and it is quite certain that additional visits by the raiders will be made.

Following the raids warrants for the arrests of the various parties were out by Mr. Martzoff and the warrants served by Constable Neely. All of the persons arrested plead guilty but Tom Marando and Louis Prdie. Constable Neely stated, however, that the last named admitted to him that he was guilty and would probably enter a plea. All furnished bail for a hearing. Marando entered no plea and the date set for his hearing has been set for Tuesday at 2 o'clock.

THINKS THE FLAG BEING MISUSED

Clearfield, Pa., July 22nd, 1922
Editor Progress, Clearfield, Pa.

Dear sir:

Some time ago you had a piece in your paper mentioning the very little respect our American people had for our Flag, the beautiful emblem of Unity, Liberty and Independence, that our young and old men and women have fought for so faithfully. I will just cite one instance which I saw yesterday. At a small coal mine west of Mahaffey where they are loading about one or two cars a day there was our American flag waving from the highest point of the tipples; being used as a sort of scare crow. I do think it a shame to so use our flag, and what can we expect from our people. Are we going to honor and reverence a scare crow. Why such use of the flag is enough to make our young men who fought so loyally in the world War to defend that flag, turn green in the face with rage at such a sight.

I always thought our flag stood for unity until I see it used in this way to stand for non-unions. I have often wondered what George Washington would think if he was to rise out of his tomb and see how our flag is being used, saying nothing of what poor Abraham Lincoln would say if he could appear on earth, and see his flag and our flag that the Union army followed to a glorious victory, over the Open Shop (slavery) like it is being used today.

If there had been soldiers around the mine with the authority of the state; then the flag should be there but not unless there was.

About the next use for the flag will be to stick it on Railroad Bridges and shops, and why can't the farmers use it to scare crows for they are afraid to fight unless crowded into close quarters.

I am yours for a United States, not Slavery.

J. A. BRECH

pects the concert. The Court House Square will be used where the stand has been enlarged to accommodate the forty members of the band but if the weather should be bad the concert will be held in the High School Auditorium. Turn out this evening to hear them.

Stand by the Truth.
Much less courage is needed to play for out a defiance before our enemies than is needed to simply state the truth as we see it, and quietly stand by it. After all, quiet steadfastness can always be trusted to carry conviction.

to operate the mines caused a delay. Strike breakers were being rushed in to the district by the railroad. State police broke up one gathering and were fired upon by strikers at the Denno mine on the Monongahela River. According to E. J. McLaghlin, in command of Troop E, several hundred shots came from the different sections of the mining settlement. No one was injured and after a sweeping search of the buildings the sniping ceased.

Follow Watkins Lead
Kittanning, July 24.—Notices were posted by the Allegheny River Mining Company here today asking its 4,000 miners to return to work under the scale as proposed by President Harding in his conference with Union leaders at Washington and if accepted the workers would suffer no reduction in wages.

The Rail Situation
Washington, July 24.—The shopmen's walk-out, striking at the heart of the nation's railroads by interfering with the maintenance of equipment is fast crippling the country's transportation system, reports to the Federal Government to day showed. With many trains already annulled because of the coal shortage, advices to day showed that many passenger trains throughout the country are unable to keep up to their present schedules, apparently because of the deterioration of equipment. Freight is also being delayed from one to five days.

Homes Dynamited
Pittsburgh, July 24.—The homes of two coal miners employed in non union operations in Patton Township, near here, were dynamited early today causing injuries to Frank Vojovich, aged 67, and Edward Giles.

Hoover Plan Agreeable
Washington, D. C., July 24.—Coal operators from non-union fields, the principal source of the nation's fuel supply during the great mine strike, today agreed in principle to Secretary of Commerce Hoover's plan for a voluntary check on coal prices and a rationing of coal to the railroads and essential industries under Interstate Commerce Commission priority orders.

As the result of a two-hour meeting with Secretary Hoover proposals to carry out his program will be drafted by representative operators and submitted to the Secretary late this afternoon. Some legal objections were raised by some of the operators but it is understood that Hoover warned them that the Interstate Commerce Commission was ready to refuse transportation of coal at protesting prices if the mine owners did not agree to prevent prices from sky-rocketing.

Meadville Home Dynamited.
Meadville, Pa., July 24.—The home of Wilbur T. Byham, a machinist in the Erie shops here, who refused to strike, was dynamited early today. Three persons were in the dwelling at the time, but none of them were injured.

The exchange of checks was an irregular procedure and the issuing of blank checks in exchange was likewise irregular.

As a result of this method of handling these funds the Commonwealth lost interest, calculated at 2 per cent per annum, of approximately $11,300 which otherwise would have been received.

With respect to the foregoing transaction we have found that all monies other than said interest due to the Commonwealth were finally deposited to its credit before the close of business on April 30th, 1921.

Chief End of Strains.
A well-known politician tells this one on himself. A barber while trimming his locks, remarked: "You have a large head, sir (snip, snip). It's a fine thing to have a large head, for a large head means a large brain, and a large brain is the most useful thing a man can have, for it nourishes the roots of the hair."—Boston Transcript.

KU KLUX KLAN IS THE DECIDING FACTOR IN TEXAS PRIMARY

Dallas, July 23.—Returns tonight from all sections of Texas on yesterday's Democratic primary, while partial, nevertheless, indicated a sweeping victory for most of the candidates who espoused the cause of the Ku Klux Klan or had the indorsement of that organization. Charles A. Culberson, for twenty-two years the senior Senator from Texas, is running third. He was one of the avowed opponents of the Klan.

Th leading candidate is Earl B. Mayfield, State Railroad Commissioner. According to the returns, Mayfield got the bulk of the Klan support. He did not admit membership in the organization, but its leaders publicly did all they could for him. Former Governor James Ferguson is second. Mr. Ferguson, who was impeached while Governor, denied the Klan, but declared it ought not to be an issue in the contest.

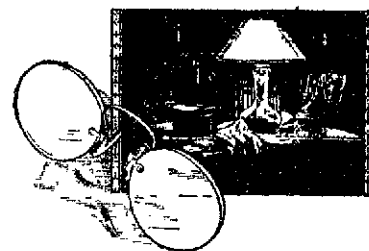

Cullen P. Thomas, fourth in the race, did not take a positive position with reference to the Klan. Ansley, the fifth man, contended himself with the condemning it. Curiously enough, former

R. L. Henry, who publicly declared himself a Klansman, stands last in the race. Henry's friends claim that this is because of a frame-up against him in the Klan councils, which threw the bulk of the Klan votes to Mayfield.

Governor P. M. Neff, a candidate for renomination, unquestionably has won. He has refused to say anything concerning the Klan.

With few exceptions, the Klan's influence seems to have been in every race. They have captured judges, district attorneys, sheriffs and other judicial or executive officers in all parts of Texas.

Figures on returns available tonight, about half the total, showed:

ENJOY THIS RELIEF FROM HOT WEATHER WASHING

There's no need this season to make a hot day hotter by working over a steaming wash-tub, or hanging out clothes in the blistering sun. Send the washing to us.

We'll wash the bundle in soft, fleecy suds, rinse in many changes of rain-soft water, iron the flatwork, starch those pieces that need it, and leave for you only the ironing of a few lighter things such as most women like to finish themselves. Or, at a slight additional cost, we'll iron everything.

Next washday simply gather together those soiled clothes, bundle them up, and give them to our representative when he calls. A phone call will bring him.

Bill's Fixing Watches

That Haven't Run
Right For A Long
Time

Some of the watches and clocks that have been brought in here lately haven't run for a long time. They are brought in in sort of a hopeless way —"fix it if you can, but I don't think it can be fixed"
—and the first thing they know when they quire about it is that it is running along as sweet as can be and keeping good time.

Many a watch or clock has come in here in very bad shape and has gone out again running as it should run.

MIDSUMMER LASSITUDE

There's usually a deep-seated cause for that midsummer lassitude—we mean that tired feeling that comes whether the weather is warm or cool.
And it sometimes comes from the intestinal organs not functioning right. If you'll try our mineral oil, you'll find that you are feeling better and that tired feeling is gone.
